

Voyagers Code of Culture

All who enter Voyagers are expected to uphold the standards outlined below.

Our Shared Commitment

At Voyagers, students, families, staff, volunteers, and visitors are 100% responsible for their behavior, communication, work, and character. We strive to act with respect, kindness, accountability, and care at all times while remembering we are all Children of God.

We believe individuals are responsible for their choices and actions. We accept consequences with humility and grace, learn from mistakes, and practice forgiveness—toward ourselves and others. We recognize each person as an agent with the ability to choose, grow, and improve, rather than as a victim of circumstances.

Voyagers respects individuals of all faiths and beliefs. While we welcome diverse backgrounds, our school is guided by the doctrinal truths taught by our Savior, Jesus Christ. His teachings influence our values, culture, and approach to learning. At Voyagers, faith and academics work together to support growth in knowledge, character, and becoming better individuals.

Be Safe • Be Respectful • Be Responsible • Be a Leader

These guiding principles shape all expectations at Voyagers. They include, but not limited to:
